

Instructor - So I noticed three participants who were showing signs of trauma while we were doing our scenario.

The one on the very end, the blonde with the tan sweater, she was crying, visibly crying. That's why we're gonna pull her out and that's why I removed her from the scene.

The other one was the one who was wearing the black sweater. She had it wrapped nice and tight around her so she was swaddled. So she's one you wanna be careful, try not to get in her face or point the gun at her.

And the third one was the lady who is tucked behind the lady with the curly hair. She had her hair kind of combed back and black, and she was visibly shaking.

So, those are the three participants we really gotta be careful with. Be careful with how much you get in her face, you're screaming and do not point a gun in their way, okay?

Thanks, guys.
